Program:

Kim Higgins presented an entertaining program on the history of Jack O'Lantern and Halloween, with a few trivial questions from old "horror" movies thrown in for fun.

People have been making jack-o'-lanterns at Halloween for centuries. The practice originated from an Irish myth about a man nicknamed "Stingy Jack." According to the story, Stingy Jack invited the Devil to have a drink with him. True to his name, Stingy Jack didn't want to pay for his drink, so he convinced the Devil to turn himself into a coin that Jack could use to buy their drinks. Once the Devil did so, Jack decided to keep the money and put it into his pocket next to a silver cross, which prevented the Devil from changing back into his original form. Jack eventually freed the Devil, under the condition that he would not bother Jack for one year and that, should Jack die, he would not claim his soul. The next year, Jack again tricked the Devil into climbing into a tree to pick a piece of fruit. While he was up in the tree, Jack carved a sign of the cross into the tree's bark so that the Devil could not come down until the Devil promised Jack not to bother him for ten more years.

Soon after, Jack died. As the legend goes, God would not allow such an unsavory figure into heaven. The Devil, upset by the trick Jack had played on him and keeping his word not to claim his soul, would not allow Jack into hell. He sent Jack off into the dark night with only a burning coal to light his way. Jack put the coal into a carved-out turnip and has been roaming the Earth with ever since. The Irish began to refer to this ghostly figure as "Jack of the Lantern," and then, simply "Jack O'Lantern."

In Ireland and Scotland, people began to make their own versions of Jack's lanterns by carving scary faces into turnips or potatoes and placing them into windows or near doors to frighten away Stingy Jack and other wandering evil spirits. In England, large beets are used. Immigrants from these countries brought the jack o'lantern tradition with them when they came to the United States. They soon found that pumpkins, a fruit native to America, make perfect jack o'lanterns.

Halloween is a time of celebration and superstition. It is thought to have originated with the ancient Celtic festival of Samhain, when people would light bonfires and wear costumes to ward off roaming ghosts. In the eighth century, Pope Gregory III designated November 1 as a time to honor all saints and martyrs; the holiday, All Saints' Day, incorporated some of the traditions of Samhain. The evening before was known as All Hallows' Eve and later Halloween.

Over time, Halloween evolved into a secular, community-based event characterized by child-friendly activities such as trick-or-treating. In a number of countries around the world, as the days grow shorter and the nights get colder, people continue to usher in the winter season with gatherings, costumes and sweet treats. In the U.S. about $1.6 Billion is spent for Halloween related activities and items.

Program:

Jerry Leonard introduced our speaker, Jeff Rasche from Chaddock in Quincy, Illinois. The Chaddock agency provides many services including residential treatment for children who have experienced severe abuse, neglect, or other trauma in their early years of development.

Many of the children in their program are adopted by loving families, but unresolved issues from their early childhood had prevented them from forming loving, nurturing relationships. Three out of four children in this program, whose issues were so profound that they were unable to live in a home environment, are able to return home or go to a less restrictive environment (such as living on their own in an apartment) in an average of 18-24 months.

Chaddock works diligently with the whole family from the first phone contact until the conclusion of follow up care after discharge to rebuild relationships and bring about healing for the profound pain and unresolved trauma experienced by these children.

Chaddock's on-campus accredited school provides specialized education for residential students and also for many other students from the Quincy area. In addition, Chaddock's staff offers consultation and training to schools, parents, and other professionals across the nation and overseas.

The foster care program is consistently rated as one of the top programs in the state of Illinois. The ultimate goal of their programs is to provide a safe and loving home for children in need. Every effort is made to repair broken family units and return children to a secure and caring home with their birthparents. When this is not possible, they work to transition the children into permanent adoptive homes.

The food pantry was started about 15-20 years ago as a ministry of the Tuscola United Methodist Church and was named SAM (Social Assistance Ministry) Food Pantry. The pantry is still housed at the Tuscola United Methodist Church through their congregation's generosity. The food pantry became a community wide project primarily serving Tuscola, Atwood and Garrett.

In 2010, 1,745 families were served which covered 6,382 people. In 2011 through October, 1,773 families have been served which represents 6,499 people. Yes, there is hunger in our communities. The recipients are mostly elderly, disabled and/or temporarily unemployed.

Betsy thanked Kiwanis for our monetary donations and our assistance with the Rotary Food Drive and the U.S. Postal Service Food Drive. It costs about $4,200.00 per month to operate the pantry, and currently the income is about half that amount. There is a need for monetary and food donations. There are 52 volunteers that keep the pantry running including several Kiwanians.

6. Peanut Days – The Board reviewed the net results from the last 4 years. Due to the club not being able to work Tanger Mall, the 2011 results were about $1,000.00 less than usual. To make this up, Janet Butler made a motion for the club to conduct Peanut Day Sales Friday, 11/11 & Saturday 11/12 at Tanger Mall with a contingency of 11/18 & 11/19 if weather is too bad on the earlier weekend. To work with Key Club’s fundraising committee, and consider other forms of donation/fundraising, it was agreed that president Jaci Manzella would form a club committee. Jaci will ask for a committee chairperson volunteer and committee members at our next club meeting.
8. ARTCo Request – ARTCo is moving forward to renovate the property at the NW corner of Main & Sale to establish a community theater with an audience capacity of about 100 people. Tuscola Woman’s Club has partnered with ARTCo to fundraise about $30,000 to purchase portable risers and chairs for the theater. Such an amount will take multiple fundraisers. Assistance from other service organizations in the community will be requested when needed. One such fundraiser will be a Mardi Gras/Carnivale type even at the Tuscola Community Building on Sunday, February 19, 2012. Janet Butler and Kim Higgins came forward to ask if Kiwanis would be one of the co-sponsors of this event. This request is not for club Kiwanis funding. Organizers would be requesting volunteer help on the evening of the event, preparation of food/desserts and would include publicity that Kiwanis is a co-sponsor. Additional organizations, such as Rotary and the Moose, will also be asked to assist. Sherrie Hoel made a motion to approve the request, making Tuscola Kiwanis one of the sponsors for the 2-19-12 event. Pat Damler seconded the motion and it was approved.
